

Although it is possible to order stamps and do other postal functions on-line, there are still some times when you have to visit a Post Office. For example, Post Offices still serve as a registration point for Selective Service and many major Post Offices in larger communities handle Passport applications.

Here is a locator that you can use to find the Post Office nearest you